1   SYSTEM AND PROGRAM PRODUCT FOR MANAGING CALL

2   INFORMATION

3   ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

4   A method for managing call information has steps of receiving a

5   plurality of calls, determining the caller for each call, and recording a message

6   for at least one of the calls with a recorder. A call record is created for each

7   call, with the record having at least caller information and an indication of

8   whether a recorded message is associated with the call. The records are

9   displayed on a display, which has a selector for selecting one of the records.

10   The method further comprises a step of replaying the recorded message

11   associated with a selected record.
